

Sustainability in every detail at Abulabel Solutions – also in waste handling

With over 40 years of experience, Abulabel Solutions is much more than just another company in the self-adhesive label manufacturing industry. Serving a diverse range of sectors, including logistics, food, cosmetics, chemical, and pharmaceutical industries, the company's mission is to produce labels that make the customer's label unique.

Abulabel is not only known for its high-quality labels but also for its strong commitment to sustainability. Through innovations like linerless technology, which eliminates the traditional paper or plastic backing of conventional labels, they significantly reduce waste.

This eco-friendly approach optimizes resources, reduces paper consumption, and boosts labeling efficiency. Abulabel also incorporates recycled materials and clean energy into their processes, ensuring minimal environmental impact without compromising quality. A recent addition to their sustainability efforts is the installation of a Lundberg Tech MatrixCompactor 200 at their factory.

This waste handling unit plays an important role in managing and minimizing waste, further supporting their green initiatives.

TESTIMONIAL

Alberto Fernandez at Abulabel Solutions shares his perspective and concludes on the Lundberg Tech waste handling solution:

"Abulabel Solutions is very pleased with the results achieved through the Lundberg Tech MatrixCompactor. This solution has significantly optimized our production efficiency by fully automating the waste handling process — capturing, cutting, conveying, collecting, and compacting label matrix waste, which has greatly reduced our overall waste volume.

Furthermore, by minimizing the need for production stops, the implementation greatly facilitates the work of our operators, creating a safer and more organized environment.

This technology not only enhances efficiency but also aligns perfectly with our commitment to sustainability and resource optimization, values that are fundamental to Abulabel."

Abulabel's dedication to sustainability is clear, and their partnership with Lundberg Tech is a testament to their continuous efforts to innovate and improve both their products and processes for a greener future.
